FLASH CLASSROOM TUTORIAL - MAKING AN ANIMATED WALLPAPER FOR YOUR MOBILE

MAKING AN ANIMATED WALLPAPER FOR YOUR MOBILE PHONE WITH FLASH CS3

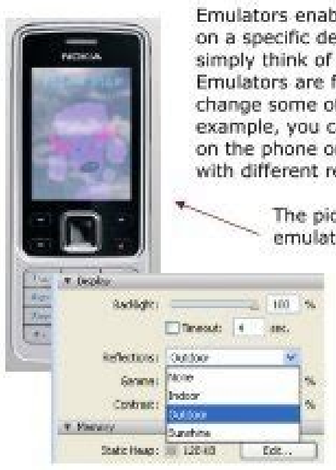
Ever thought about creating your own animated wallpaper or screensaver for your mobile? With Adobe Flash CS3 and Adobe Device Central, it's simple to do. Infact, if you have a mobile with the Flash Lite Player installed, by following this tutorial you should be able have your own unique animated wallpaper or screensaver with a character running on your phone in about an hour.

Part A - Checking that the Flash Lite Player is installed on your mobile device.

Most mobile phones now ship with the Flash Lite Player installed, which means that your mobile phone probably has everything it needs to display Flash content. If you're not sure, there are two easy ways to check.

1. Open up Adobe Device Central CS3. This application is part of the Adobe Creative Suite and can be found in the same section of your programs menu that you launch Flash from.

2. Adobe has included Device Central CS3 in the Creative Suite collection to make it easy for developers to build and preview content for mobile devices. The application has emulators for all mobile devices that can run the Flash Lite Player. Adobe releases quarterly updates for the software to ensure the latest devices are included in Device Central.



Emulators enable us to preview what content will look like on a specific device. When you select and use an emulator, simply think of it as a virtual version of your mobile. Emulators are fantastic because they even allow you to change some of the parameters relating to the device. For example, you can reduce the amount of battery power left on the phone or even preview what the phone will look like with different reflections.

The pictures to the right show the Nokia 6300 emulator in Device Central showing a preview of how my animated wallpaper looks when the phone has an outdoors reflection.

Create a new Flash File in Adobe Device Central by selecting File > New Document In > Flash.
